

EMMA WALKER

Front-End Developer and Digital Designer

Experience

Web Intern

Steamboat Springs Chamber Resort Association

Summer 2018

I worked in Colorado for a summer assisting with the transition from SSCRA's old website to their current website. I worked on a lot of content migration and creation, and did regular work inside of their CMS. I actively worked on a multitude of projects including helping the marketing director - which is an area I was unfamiliar with before. This internship taught me a lot about what it means to work on a website.

Interactive Media Studies Student

Miami University

2015 - Present

At Miami University, I work on web development, user interface design, user experience, and more on a daily basis. I have taken numerous web coding classes and learned many development languages. I have also worked on various projects that involved designing user interfaces for mobile applications and doing user experience research.

I am currently updating my website emma-walker.com, however please check out some of my mobile application projects and other minor illustration projects on Behance.net/emmawalker17.

My family is the most important part of my life. Due to our annual summer vacation to Holden Beach, a turtle sanctuary in North Carolina, the Walker family adopted the sea turtle as our mascot. The sea turtle now follows us everywhere – stuffed sea turtles on our cars' dashboards, glass sea turtles decorating our home, and now a sea turtle I designed myself representing my brand and my values.
